Letter of recommendation

Mar Mcrae

Developer Support Engineer, Meta

October 11, 2025

I had the opportunity to work with Dan during my time on contract at Meta as a Developer Support Engineer. Our teams worked closely together. Dan led the vendor team that provided first-line support for XR developers, focusing on technical issues related to Horizon OS SDKs, APIs, and platform tools. My team was responsible for overseeing the outstanding work Dan’s team delivered, handling escalations and serving as a bridge to internal engineering teams for bug fixes, documentation updates, and similar efforts. It was a pleasure partnering with Dan to ensure developers had a smooth and positive support experience.

In a space where developers often reached out with complex and high-impact issues, Dan’s empathetic, thorough, and proactive approach to developer support was invaluable. His technical depth allowed him to consistently provide clear, actionable guidance for a wide range of issues. This included identifying root causes in developer code, offering sample code, and walking developers through solutions or alternative workarounds. Beyond solving problems, Dan anticipated them: flagging recurring pain points, recommending documentation improvements, and proposing new resources to reduce developer friction.

As a leader, he was strong and led by example-- dependable, highly collaborative, and prioritized knowledge sharing. He created an internal knowledge base that became essential for onboarding, efficiency, and consistency in developer communication.

I can confidently say that Dan cares deeply about helping both developers and his team to succeed. I can't recommend him enough. He was awesome to work with and any team would be lucky to have him!
